

Biannual Newsletter

July 2021

Dear <<First Name>>,

Welcome to the mid-year edition of the GoodChips newsletter! It has been a challenging first half of the year, but it seems that we are all finally returning to our normal routine. The recovery of Europe has started and provides for more green practices, which will inevitably lead to a positive impact on the bioenergy sector and the wood chips market in particular.

We believe that standardized high-quality wood chips has potential and the GoodChips certification scheme can only contribute to the wider utilisation of the fuel by facilitating trade and providing mutual trust between the market actors.

Earlier this year, we've published a video which aims at promoting the scheme among producers who haven't discovered it yet. I invite you to have a look at it below. I would also like to use the occasion to thank all the certified companies for trusting GoodChips and to remind those who are interested to get certified that they can always reach out to our team for more information.

I wish you a pleasant summer holiday season!

Elena Dumitru
Certification Director
